LODGE ROOM RENTALS

Our renovated Lodge Room is available for rental at very reasonable rates. Catering can be arranged. For more information contact Brooke at 805-496-4550.

Elk of the Month

February's Elk of the Month goes to Carlos Muzquiz. Carlos is a great volunteer. He has worked on more than one bbq team and recently became crew chief for the Numero Uno team. He volunteered at the tree lot, and is a regular around the Lodge, always exhibiting a positive attitude. Thank you, Carlos, for all you contribute.

Deadline for receiving ALL material for publication is the 15th of the Month.

The Antler Antics is published monthly in Thousand Oaks, California as the official bulletin of the Thousand Oaks Elks Lodge No. 2477 of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks of the United States of America, 2330 Los Feliz Dr., Thousand Oaks, CA 91360. Publication of the Antler Antics is an activity of the Lodge and contributions of interesting pertinent reading material and photographs are welcome. Photographs MUST be identified and captioned or they will not be published.

Exalted Ruler Karen Martyn

The months of December and January provided many successful events for the Lodge. Dan and I hope everyone enjoyed the ER Christmas Dinner. Thank you Richard Lucariello and all the members who helped at the Christmas tree lot for making this year's sales outstanding. These profits will help us continue our good work throughout the New Year. Thanks Dan Hoffman for organizing the annual Christmas basket program. We brought much joy to many seniors and families this holiday season. The Hare of the Dog potluck on News Years Day was a fun-filled event. Congratulations to Duke Kopacz for winning the opportunity drawing, and to Reem Agel and Pam Price for winning the potluck $50 drawings.

On February 1st Paul Stein will be hosting our annual Police & Firefighters Appreciation Night. Please try and attend this annual event and show support to these special men and women who help protect us while putting themselves on the line day after day. Space is limited, so please sign up at the Lodge or call the bar to make a reservation.

In February we will hold elections for next year's officers. If you have any interest in serving in our officer corps, please see me or Dan Hoffman and we will explain the positions and respective duties for officers. Nominations will take place at our regular Lodge meeting on February 13, 2019 and the elections will be held on February 27th. Now is also the time to start thinking about getting involved in one of the many lodge committees for the next Elks Year. If you are interested in doing some very rewarding work, please see me or Dan Hoffman. Make this your year to get involved!

Happy Valentine's Day. Don't forget to remember someone you love with a good deed or a simple reminder that you love them.

Fraternally,

Karen Martyn

Leading Knight Dan Hoffman

This month we celebrate the Elk's Birthday -151 years old. We are all blessed to have the opportunity to belong to such a respected charitable organization. The help we extend to those in need truly demonstrates our caring heart. The funds that we raise through our various fund raising events displays our compassion and our steadfast focus on sharing. Please take the opportunity to continue your support for the Elks by participating in the various opportunities we offer at the Thousand Oaks Elks for all of us to "pay it forward" and by embracing "the daily gifts we bestow increase our own riches" in 2019.

Now, for a few more comments on our recently completed Charity Basket Program. For those who took the time to help with the delivery, we could not have done it without Terry Gicking's logistical support. The free lunch that was provided was "first cabin". Gary Berg, thank you for the effort you put in to providing your homemade prime beef chili which he started making at 2:30 am so that it would be slow cooked and ready by 12 noon. Jill Williams, on top of managing her BBQ team that morning, graciously raised her hand and made hot dogs to be paired with the chili. Thank you Jill. Also, a shout out to Bobby Williams for hooking me up with his son at Smart & Final and allowing our Lodge to purchase 20 hams at a discounted rate. Bill Joseph and Art Garcia, thank you for providing the funds to purchase the 20 hams. In closing, thank you everyone for making this annual event a success once again.

If I can assist you in anyway, please contact me at 818-822-2219 or fivehofies@yahoo.com. Please continue to pray for the Borderline victims and their families. Also, continue to pray for those community members that suffered losses due to the recent fires, especially with the rainy season upon us.

Lecturing Knight Holly Healy

February is now upon us and all is well. Our scholarship program is moving along. We look forward to recognizing our award recipients.

Members, please look out for the scholarship opportunities within our lodge for 2019.

While there are great activities going on this month, I want to remind everyone that you can retire your old flags during our flag retirement ceremony. It is an inspiring and moving event.

The beginning of the year is a perfect time to think ahead for the coming months. Keep an eye out for information on our hoop shoot this year. It will be a blast.

Love is in the air, and with that, may we all practice and put forth our brotherly love.

With all my heart,

Holly Healy
Lecturing knight.

Volunteers Needed

Beginning in February, we will be renting our Lodge Room on weekdays for daytime classes, and we will need some volunteers to help with daily room setup. This is an important opportunity for us, and if you are available to help, please contact our Club Manager, Brooke Okray at 805-496-4550 or Trustee Dan Martyn at 818-298-8004.

Secretary David Naccarato

Cards and letters

Steve and Mary Woodlief, our dictionary committee chairs, made a delivery at Glenwood Elementary School. They have an assembly and show the kids what can be learned from a dictionary, with stories and a question and answer period. Every child receives their own dictionary from the Elks.

We received thank you letters from the kids and here are a few:

Hailey R. wrote: "Thank you for gifting us with your lovely dictionary. I like three things in the dictionary. I like the Braille and sign language and the longest word in the English language. I also like the book mark. It was very funny - 'I'd rather eat bugs than do drugs.' Thank you Elks Lodge members."

Amber wrote: "Thank you for the free dictionary. It has helped me. My favorite part is the sign language and Braille. I know how to read Braille now, thanks a lot."

Jason wrote: "Thank you for the free book. I love the longest word. Everything is awesome. Everything I need is in the dictionary."

Kason wrote: "Thank you Elks Lodge for the dictionaries. I really like the Braille it showed us and the sign language. My favorite thing is all the U.S. Presidents. I love my dictionary. I'll keep everything in my dictionary and I've got to say you people are the best in the world. I like all of the words that are in my dictionary."

To some of these kids, this dictionary is the only book in the house and it means so much to them to receive it.

We also received two thank you cards from our delivery of food baskets and gifts. One was from the Bravo Family which said "Dear people from the Elks Lodge, we would like to say thank you for making our holidays special with the baskets full of blessings. We really appreciate it! May God bless you all and your families this holiday season and

Flag Etiquette

When the Flag of the United States is displayed in a manner other than by being flown from a staff it should be displayed flat, whether indoors or outdoors. When displayed either horizontally or vertically against a wall, the union should be uppermost and to the Flags own right, i.e., the observer's left. When displayed in a window it should be the same way. The Flag should never be draped or used as a decoration to replace bunting.

When flown half staff, the Flag is first hoisted to the peak of the staff and lowered to half-staff. Before lowering the flag for the day it is again raised to the peak and then lowered. On Memorial Day, the Flag is displayed at half- staff from sunrise until noon and at full-staff from noon until sunset.

When displayed over the middle of the street, as between buildings, the Flag of the United States should be suspended vertically with the union to the north on an east-and-west street and to the east on a north-and-south street.

When used on a speaker's platform, the Flag, if displayed flat should be displayed above and behind the speaker. It should never be used to cover the speakers table nor to drape over the front of the platform. If flown from a staff it should be on the speaker's right.

When displayed from a staff in a church or public auditorium, the flag of the United States if America, should hold the position of superior prominence, in advance of the audience, and in the position of honor at the clergyman's or speaker's left as he or she faces the audience. Any other flag so displayed is to be placed to the speaker's left as he or she faces the audience. Prior to the flag code changes in 1976, the display procedure was somewhat different. Now the staffed flag should always be placed to the right of the speaker without regard to a platform or floor level.

When carried in a procession with another Flag or Flags, the Flag of the United States should be either on the marching right, i.e., the Flags own right, or when there is a line of other flags, the Flag of the United

B.P.O.E. Veterans Programs

Bob Bowers,
Chairman, National Veterans Service
Vinny DeWitt,
Vice Chairman, National Veterans Service

Here are a few of the programs developed by Grand Lodge to keep us true to our pledge: "So long as there are veterans, the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks will never forget them."

Army of Hope

Just as the Elks/Wounded Warrior project assists injured veterans of the conflicts in Iraq and Afghanistan, the Elks' "Army of Hope" assists the families of Military Reservists and the National Guard who have been called to active duty during these times of crisis. The response from members and non-Elks has been overwhelming, and government officials at the local, state and national levels have responded favorably to the initiative.

Adopt-a-Veteran Program

If you've ever been hospitalized, you know the loneliness and depression you can experience. Think how tough it must be for hospitalized veterans, especially those who are far from home or have no family. With that thought in mind, George Schwarz of Clawson-Troy, Michigan, Lodge devised a simple yet effective solution in 1980: the Adopt-a-Veteran program.

His idea proved so successful that it was picked up by the National Veterans Service Commission in 1983. Last year, Lodges across the nation adopted 47,000 veterans. The Elks visited with them on their birthdays and holidays and showered them with gifts and attention. They took those who could leave the medical centers out to dinner, and brought dinner to those who couldn't. The Elks provided these men and women with comfort, companionship, cheer and understanding, and in the process helped lift some of their loneliness.

The object of the Adopt-a-Veteran program is to take the place of family, to replace loneliness with hope and to let the veterans know we will never forget them.

The Elks National Veterans Service Commission awarded Freedom Grants of $2,000 each to 75 Lodges which submitted well-crafted proposals to support veterans and our active military. All 75 Freedom Grants have been awarded. We thank you for your submissions, and we also thank the Elks National Foundation which supported this program in its inaugural year.

Veterans Leather Program

The Elks National Veterans Service Commission is the major source of hides and tanned leather used for recreational and occupational therapy throughout the Veterans Administration health care system. Elks Leather has become a national by-word among veteran patients everywhere.

Time between visits from friends and families can make hospitalization a drudgery for our veterans. Leather provides a form of relief by keeping minds active as well as providing exercise

States may be in front of that line

When a number of flags are grouped and displayed from staffs, the Flag of the United States should be in the center or at the highest point in the group.

When displayed with any other flag against a wall or in the open, from crossed staffs, the Flag of the United States should be on the right, the flag's own right, and its staff should be in front of the staff of the other flag.

To fold the Flag ceremoniously, first fold lengthwise, bringing the striped half up over the blue field. Then repeat, with the blue field on the outside. Beginning at the lower right, make a series of triangular folds until the flag resembles a cocked hat with only the blue field visible.

for injured and unused muscles. Veterans often enter wallets, clothing, belts and moccasins in Arts and Crafts shows sponsored by the Elks.

Recently, a program was initiated by Elks whereby tanned leather is cut and sewn into specially designed gloves which are furnished to veterans confined to wheelchairs, thereby protecting their hands during movement.

If you are a veteran, you can discover more about this program by contacting the Elks National Veteran's Service Chairman.

November is Veterans Remembrance Month

For the Order of Elks, veterans remembrance is a daily proposition. We never have, and never will, never forget the sacrifices these heroes have made so that we may be free. Furthermore, it has been a tradition for the BPOE to redouble its efforts on behalf of veterans in November, not just for Veterans Day, but for the entire month. For the Elks, November is Veterans Remembrance Month.

The Elks National Veterans Service Commission asks all Lodges to run a special event to commemorate Veterans Remembrance Month and to raise funds for the Lodge's Veterans Service Commission. Many Lodges use the proceeds for special events in the VA medical center during the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays. Some Lodges even invite those veterans who are able to take part in special programs and functions.

El Konejo Kampers

For the third year in a row there has been no campout for the El Konejo Kampers in January. This last one was to be held at the Santa Maria Elks Lodge, a favorite of this group, but due to the exaggeration of those reporting the news and weather, folks must have imagined Thousand Oaks sliding away on a sea of mud. Consequently, the campout was cancelled. Yes, we had some much needed and welcomed rain, but it was not a winter storm deluge as the news would have us believe. As I write, they are calling for more and more rain - we'll see. I might still have to eat these words.

For others in the group, we had planned an alternative campout in Indio. Yes, the desert does get rain and it can be extreme, but more times than not, the rain passes the desert by. This campout is what is known as a rally. RVers gather from all over the country, I'm guessing many of them are snowbirds and a lot of others are desert rats, and some, like the errant EKKs just want to experience the thrill of over 800 RVs gathered in a single location with plenty of planned activities. Yes, it is planned and there are many, many vendors with everything you need to trick out your RV, fix anything broken, customize and much more. They sell clothing and wigs and even had line dancing instruction for those interested. Each morning there is complimentary coffee and donuts and three nights of excellent entertainment. They have drawings for vacations, money, prizes and more. During the day they conduct seminars on every topic under the sun for RVers and have complimentary ice cream socials. Aside from the microcosm of activity at the fairgrounds, the town of Indio has a lot to do and see. So for David and Jessica Stull, Sue Osgood, Cheryl Templeton, Carol Spinner, Ann Digman and friends, this alternative proved to be a good choice. We did have a little rain on Friday night into Saturday morning, but we didn't let that stop us. Most activity took place in giant tents or buildings. Perhaps the EKKs might want to plan to go to Indio in 2020?

The two Sunday breakfasts put on monthly by the EKKs continue to be popular with numbers increasing each month. A big thank you to all the volunteer crew chiefs and kitchen crews. Come on down and enjoy a hardy breakfast for a reasonable price.
